A: The Embassy of Japan in Australia DOES NOT accept applications from applicants who do not have Australian citizenship (regardless of Permanent Residency status).

The JET Programme does accept participants from many countries across the world, however in order to apply you MUST be a national of the country that you wish to represent. Therefore, please contact the Japanese diplomatic mission in the country of your nationality.

For a full list of contacts for Japanese embassies and consulates around the world, please visit:

Websites of Japanese Embassies, Consulates and Permanent Missions

Q: I am a dual citizen of Australia and Japan. Can I still apply?

A: Yes. However, successful applicants who hold dual nationality with Japan MUST renounce their Japanese citizenship before the designated departure date.

Q: I don't have a Bachelor's degree. Can I still apply?

A: No. Applicants MUST hold at least a Bachelor's degree or obtain such a degree by the designated departure date.

Q: What type of degree do I need to apply for the JET Programme?

A: Any type of Bachelor's degree from a recognised university is sufficient. JET Programme participants hold degrees in a wide range of fields.

Q: Do I have to hold a teaching degree or TEFL qualifications to apply for the ALT position?

A: It is not compulsory for ALT applicants to possess teaching experience or qualifications. However, additional consideration is given to ALT applicants who:

- a) Have language teaching experience and/or qualifications (TEFL/TESL/TESOL)
- b) Have teaching experience and/or qualifications
- c) Have a high level of Japanese language proficiency (JLPT)

Q: I don't speak Japanese. Can I still apply?

A: Yes. For the ALT position, many successful applicants apply with little or no Japanese language ability. While an interest in learning Japanese is an advantage when applying for the Programme, formal qualifications are not required. Please note that Japanese language ability is required for CIR applicants.

Q: I would like to apply for the CIR position. What is the required level of Japanese for CIR applicants?

A: CIR applicants MUST have a functional command of the Japanese language (Level N1 or N2 of the Japanese Language Proficiency Test is desirable).

Q: My Japanese level is around the N1/N2 level, but I haven't taken the Japanese Language Proficiency Test. Do I need to take the test in order to apply?

APPLYING FOR THE JET PROGRAMME

Q: Can I apply for both ALT and CIR positions?

A: No. Applicants CANNOT apply for both positions in the same year. CIR applicants can request in their application (see Question 26b. ALT Placement) to be considered for the ALT position as well as CIR, but this request will only be considered after the interview should the interview panel determine that the candidate is more suited to the ALT position than the CIR position. Please contact The JET Desk should you require further details.

Q: What should I write about in my Statement of Purpose (Essay)?

A: Please refer to the 2020 JET Programme Statement of Purpose \(Essay\) Guide on the Embassy's website for more information.

Q: What kind of references do you require?

A: Applicants MUST submit two (2) reference letters with their application. Reference letters must be specific and directly address an applicant's suitability for the JET Programme. Reference letters can be written in either Japanese or English; however the Reference Form cover sheet MUST be completed in English. Furthermore, referees are required to return the reference letter (hand signed) with two (2) copies in a sealed envelope to the applicant.

If an applicant has not graduated by the time of application, one of their reference letters MUST be from someone related to their university.

Reference letters MUST be from a professional source. Reference letters from friends or relatives are NOT ACCEPTED.

Q: What is an academic transcript and where do I get one?

A: This is a list of all the courses you have taken as part of your university degree(s) and can usually be obtained through student administration at your university. This document MUST be either printed on official university paper or photocopies that have been certified by a Justice of the Peace or a person authorised to do so. Transcripts printed off My eQuals will only be accepted if they have been certified by a Justice of the Peace or a person authorised to do so.

Q: My partner and I want to apply for the JET Programme. Can we be placed together?

A: The Embassy does not assign Contracting Organisations and whilst efforts are made to meet applicants' requests, we cannot guarantee these requests will be met. However, we recommend that applicants include their placement request in their application. If an applicant successfully passes the second stage of screening process (interview stage), this information will then be passed on to Tokyo after which point Contracting Organisations will be assigned.

Q: I am applying with an accompanying dependent (spouse, children, etc.). Will this affect my chances of being selected?

A: Applying of the JET Programme with accompanying dependents will not have any negative impact on an applicant's chances of being selected. Please list all the necessary information in the application form under 'Accompanying Dependents'.

Q: How will I know if The JET Desk has received my application?

A: We recommend that all applicants residing in Australia at the time of application to include a stamped, unsealed, self-addressed envelope with their application. Enclosed in the envelope will be an acknowledgement of receipt. Please note that receipts will be returned as soon as possible, however there may be a delay during our busiest period in November and December.
